RESUME

A Little About Me

I'm CMarcio web designer and developer. After a long and well-successed career as a geologist I decided to move into a new world of technology as a web designer and developer.

In 2017 I started an Associate Degree course in Systems Analysis Development, along those years I have done a lot of specialization courses and bootcamps, in order to improve my skills.

I'm from Brazil, currently living in Sao Paulo. I've been looking for a (full-time or part-time) job opportunity or freelance projects.

My best quality is to be self taught!
